

Humosticals™

Thursday, March 22, 2018

1:31 AM

(noun): The currency backed by humor based on the idea of buying and selling simply by signing your initials on a wirebound memopad.

Inventor: Julius the Jules

For Selling:

- ☐ Buy or use a wirebound memopad as needed.
- ☐ You ask for the amount of signatures you require.
- ☐ The buyer signs their initials as many times as you requested one line at a time.

For buying:

- ☐ Buy or use a wirebound memopad as needed.
- ☐ The seller asks for the amount of signatures they require.
- ☐ You sign your initials as many times as the seller requested one line at a time.

Things to keep in mind

- Make room for bartering.
- Keep the amount of signatures you request at a reasonable amount
- Supply and demand should be a factor as with any economic demands.
- Remember, this is a currency.
- This currency is meant to be a form of humor, but you are encouraged to use it for real transactions.
- Make this currency your own and expand on the Humosticals™ project.

Visit, Julius the Jules, on the web:

<http://juliusthejules.tumblr.com>